Projects

PneumoScan | Python, Keras, PyTorch, TensorFlow

- Developed and implemented convolutional neural network (CNN) models using TensorFlow, Keras, and PyTorch to classify chest X-rays for pneumonia detection.
- Achieved 90% accuracy in identifying pneumonia cases from a large, annotated dataset of chest X-ray images.
- Provided an efficient diagnostic tool for healthcare professionals, improving early detection and treatment planning for pneumonia patients.

RateFlix | Python, Keras, PyTorch, TensorFlow

- Implemented autoencoder neural networks to predict movie ratings (1-5) using TensorFlow, Keras, and PyTorch.
- Achieved accurate predictions with an average error of 0.9 stars, showcasing high performance in rating forecasts.
- Developed a user-friendly movie recommendation system, enhancing user engagement and satisfaction with personalized ratings and recommendations.

Emaily | MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js

- Developed a web application, Emaily, using the MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) stack.
- Designed to aid companies in sending review forms to customers via email, streamlining the collection of feedback.
- Facilitates efficient communication between businesses and clients by simplifying the process of sending emails and managing customer reviews.

Experience

HCLTech | Intern Sep. 2024 – Present

- Researching Open Source technologies and innovations used by companies like Salesforce and SAP.
- Supporting government projects with Open Source tools to enhance tech solutions.
- Gaining experience in Open Source development and collaboration.
